Germans on West Succeed in Making Advances Near Thiamont Farm

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)
BERLIN, Germany, June 9.—The Overseas News Agency today gave out the statement that United States Ambassador James Gerard has absolutely repudiated the interview credited to him a few days ago in which he said peace was in sight.
He was reported to have said that he had reason to believe that peace was definitely on its way and to have intimated that he expected an early cessation of hostilities.

AUSTRIANS LOST TERRAIN

LONDON, Eng., June 9.—A Rome despatch today gives further particulars upon the breaking of the Austrian line by the Russians on the Lutsk-Volynian sector. The Austrian front is declared to be broken along a length of 34 miles and a depth of 37 miles. The Russian army has been seen from the news from Rome that the Russians are attacking from the east and north.

"Home Rule For Hawaii! G. O. P. Platform Plank"

BY JOSEPH R. FARRINGTON
(Star-Bulletin Correspondent at Chicago Conventions.)
(Star-Bulletin Special Marconigram)
CHICAGO, Ill., June 9.—Robert W. Breckons was yesterday made Republican national committeeman for Hawaii.
The platform committee has adopted as plank 15 of the Republican platform the declaration that officials appointed to the government of the territory should be residents.
Delegate Lyman got this plank inserted.

Progressives Consider G. O. P. Conference Committee "Insult"

A. L. C. Atkinson, Progressive national committeeman for Hawaii, this morning received the following Marconigrams by night-letter from ex-Governor George R. Carter, Progressive delegate at Chicago and national committeeman by proxy:
"Rules report will give us vote on national committee."
"Progressive leaders now plan to ask for conference."
"After wonderful debate and strong opposition, the Progressives have taken the lead in asking for a conference. The Republicans respond with the naming of a committee. Both are now in session."
"John Hays Hammond told me that he considers the composition of the Republican committee an insult to the Progressives."

HAWAII VILLAGE UPON ALA MOANA ROAD IS BOOMED

Superintendent Forbes and Promotion Secretary Taylor Outline Plans

At an informal conference this morning between Superintendent Forbes of the territorial public works department and Secretary A. P. Taylor of the Hawaiian Promotion Committee the proposed Hawaiian village upon the Ala Moana road was discussed. The promotion committee has for some time hoped to have established somewhere within the city of Honolulu a village, resulting in Superintendent Forbes suggesting the beach along the Ala Moana road as an appropriate location, and expressing his desire to cooperate with the Promotion Committee, city planning commission, and other organizations toward the accomplishment of this object.

The Hawaii Promotion Committee some time ago tentatively suggested the island back of Mahoe island at Kapiolani Park as an appropriate location for such a village, because of the site being surrounded by water, and access could be made by one bridge, which would give more or less control by the park authorities over the village activities.
The village idea contemplated the combination of old style grass houses, with a selected population which could combine, with the sentimental features, the utilitarian ones of making mats and other well-known Hawaiian curios for sale, thereby assisting the movement in a practical manner.

Superintendent Forbes this morning informed the promotion secretary that he had in contemplation many improvements that could be made along the Ala Moana strip, such as building a roadway with coral dredgings from the ocean, lining the roadway on both sides with coconut palms and improving the section generally, and removing the dump piles, which have been growing for many years.
The village, he suggested, could be located on the beach, and grass houses, properly constructed for the inmates, surrounded by a wall of foliage and made picturesque by the planting of many trees, including a grove of coconuts. During the dredging operations for road material the present narrow channel into the bay could be deepened and widened, and a short pier constructed for the use of outrigger canoes and fishermen's boats, thereby giving opportunity for small pleasure craft to come up to the village from the water route from Honolulu harbor and from Waikiki.

In addition to the sentimental attraction of the village, the utilitarian side is quite manifest in the opportunities the villagers would have for fishing and getting shell fish, seaweed, etc. The surroundings would be more or less natural to the selected population of villagers.
Superintendent Forbes has shown a very deep interest in the village and its restoration, so that the modern population and sightseeing crowd could have an opportunity studying these unique places of worship of ancient times. He suggests that a small model helau be erected near the village, thereby giving tourists an opportunity of seeing at first hand a type of

LI YUAN HUNG MEETS DEMAND OF PROVINCES

Superintendent Forbes and Promotion Secretary Taylor Outline Plans

(Special Cable to Liberty News)
SHANGHAI, June 9.—Li Yuan Hung, president of China, has announced his public policy which will be followed out during his term in office. He will first establish a new, responsible cabinet. Secondly, he announces that he will recall the old parliament, abolished by Yuan Shih-Kai.
After the recall of the parliament Li Yuan Hung will ask for a new election to choose a president. The parliament will also discuss the policies that will go into effect with the new regime. The president has announced that he will see that all notes of China and communicating banks are cashed.

Seven of the independent provinces have wired Li Yuan asking him to exercise all of the monarchy powers. If Li Yuan refuses to do this, the people will not trust the Peking government. There is a law in China which states that no person or persons shall advocate any other form of government, and the revolutionists are taking this law as a basis of their request.
After receiving the wire from the independent provinces, Li Yuan immediately requested Premier Dan Ki Sui to call a special cabinet meeting in order to discuss the request. After several hours of conference, the cabinet agreed to meet the request, and immediately wired all of the provinces to seize all those who advocated a monarchy. Leong Shi Yee, former secretary to Yuan Shih-Kai, has been arrested in Peking as a monarchy supporter.

General Chang Chun, who has been a supporter of the Manchukuo dynasty, has been asked by Kong Yu Wai, a leader of the Bo Wong Tong party, to wire General Chong Chong Lun, in Mukden, asking him to restore the Manchukuo.

YUAN'S SON NOT DEAD SAYS JAPANESE REPORT

(Special Cable to Nippon Jiji)
TOKIO, Japan, June 9.—The report that Yuan Ki Teng, the eldest son of the late Yuan Shih-Kai, is dead has not been confirmed. The report from Peking states that he is seriously ill. Every dispatch coming from Peking confirms the report that Yuan Shih-Kai was poisoned.

BROTHERS FIGHT, JAILED, TOLD TO BEHAVE AND GO

Brotherly love and family devotion were not apparent in Judge Monsarrat's court this morning when two brothers, Antonio and Jose Gonsalves, clashed in their second legal battle.
"Both of you ought to be ashamed of yourselves," said the judge. "Go home and behave yourselves."

DUKE CANCELS OPTION; STARS TO COME HERE

Kahanamoku Will Enter Big Swimming Meet in July; Other Stars Coming

R. B. Benjamin, Chicago, Ill., Cancel arrangements contained in letter of May 17.

DUKE.
This cable, which was forwarded to the mainland today, settles the status of Duke Kahanamoku, allows him to enter the coming swimming meet in July and brings to Honolulu the greatest collection of swimmers in the world today.

Since the announcement was made in the Star-Bulletin of June 2 there has been a question as to whether the swimming stars of the mainland would come here in July for the championships. Officers of the A. A. U. have held meeting after meeting to decide whether or not to ask the star swimmers to come here until the status of Duke Kahanamoku was determined.
At a meeting this afternoon John Soper, W. T. Rawlins and Lorrin Andrews in conference with Duke decided that if the world's champion would assure them that he would not become a professional before August 1 that they would cable to him to the stars to come to Hawaii. As a result of the conference Duke decided that he would send a cable to R. B. Benjamin, calling off the tentative option that was signed last month.
At that time Duke signed an option agreeing to go to the mainland for exhibitions, upon receiving a contract calling for $250 a week and expenses, together with one-half of all booking fees. Benjamin was in Honolulu last month as manager of Willie Hoppe and Koji Yamada, the billiard stars.
After the cable was signed and forwarded to Benjamin, the committee, consisting of W. T. Rawlins, Lorrin Andrews and John Soper, sent a cable to F. W. Ruben, secretary of the A. A. U., asking him to send Herbert Vollmer, Ted Cann, Ludy Langer, George Cunha and others to compete here in the championship meet which will be held on the harbor on the evenings of July 27, 28 and 29.

"This action will mean a big boost for the swimming in Hawaii," said John Soper today. "The meet which will be held in July will bring the best swimmers of America and will be the biggest aquatic event ever held in America."
"Duke will do his best to win against the stars, and we are confident that he can do so. We have secured the best swimming talent that can be secured and the coming of the swimmers will be a big thing, not only for swimming here, but for a publicity move. Mainland people will be watching for the results and this meet should go down in the annals of sport in Hawaii as one of the biggest things ever attempted."

GOVERNOR WILL URGE JOHNSON BE APPOINTED

Governor Pinkham will cable to Washington tonight urging the presidential appointment of Brig.-Gen. Samuel I. Johnson as head of the National Guard of Hawaii under the terms of the new army reorganization bill.
That bill provides that in territories the adjutant-general and commanding officer shall be appointed by the president, making him a federal official with federal pay. It also provides that only residents of the territory are eligible to appointment.
Having just ascertained that the section providing for this was retained in the perfected bill as recommended by the conference committee of house and senate, the governor is presenting the name of Gen. Johnson. That Gen. Johnson would be put forward has been known for several months.

Shipments from the Pittsburg plant of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Co., in March amounted to 841 cars, a new high record.

CONFERENCE INDECISIVE; BORAH GOES TO PROGRESSIVES' HALL; MAY REACH BALLOTING TODAY

Wilson's Foreign Policy Denounced in Whitman's Speech Naming Hughes—Senator Fall Waiting to Put Roosevelt's Name Before G. O. P. Clans—Bull Moose Adjourn to 3 o'Clock

(Associated Press Service by Federal Wireless)
CHICAGO, Ill., June 9.—The Republican national convention early this afternoon is seething with excitement under the surface as name after name of "favorite sons" and others is placed in nomination.
The tide of Roosevelt sentiment, swelling high in the Auditorium, where the Progressives gathered again today, is surging into the Republican hall.

Senator A. B. Fall of New Mexico is waiting his opportunity to present the name of Col. Roosevelt to the Republican convention.
Hughes, Root, Burton, Weeks, Dupont and Sherman have been placed in nomination.

Among the outstanding events of the day were the reports of the joint conference committee, each side to its convention. The Progressives steadfastly put forward the name of Roosevelt, while the reports say that the Republicans did not unite in urging any one man as their choice, or name any candidate as their own.

Another significant development was the fact that Senator William E. Borah of Idaho left the Republican convention and entered the Progressive session at the auditorium, unheralded and unannounced, delivering an address which is taken by many as a possible step toward harmony.

Republicans Begin Nominating, With Hughes Off at Head of Long List

(Associated Press Service by Federal Wireless)
COLISEUM, Chicago, June 9.—Returning this morning from the joint conference of his committee with the special Progressive committee, Senator Smoot of Utah read to the Republican convention the report upon the conference and its endeavor to bring harmony between the two bodies.
"The conference was frank, free and friendly," the report read, and here he was stopped by cheers. "The committeemen believed that the good of the country depends upon the defeat of the Democratic party in the coming election. The Progressives urged with temperance and fairness the opinion that Col. Roosevelt has such a personal following as to make him the most desirable candidate upon whom to unite. We agreed to report the facts to this convention."

Applause frequently interrupted the speaker.
The crowds in the Republican convention hall were larger today than at any time since the opening session due to better weather and more interest. The scene was colorful today with the delegates wearing "favorite sons," carrying flags of the states, and when the hour came for the nominations to open, the great hall reverberated with the noise-making machines and the tumultuous cheering.

The first sun in four days added warmth to the proceedings and as the session went along, the crowds of spectators became so huge that every available space was filled and soon over-taxed. Then the fire inspectors, fearing the consequences of any excitement, ordered that no more be admitted to the hall.

NOMINATIONS BRING UP "FAVORITE SONS."
At the first call for nominations Alabama, at the head of the alphabetical list, did not respond, and Arizona, then called on, yielded to New York. This brought to the platform the eloquent governor, Charles E. Whitman of the Empire state, avowed sponsor for Justice Hughes.
He began with a denunciation of President Wilson's foreign policy and made the declaration that the present prosperity is largely dependent upon the war, asserting that had it not been for the "war prosperity" the evil effects of the Democratic tariff would have made the country suffer.

In the course of his speech Whitman mentioned Taft and this brought from the convention cheers which lasted six minutes.
At this point the Republican peace conference committee reported, interrupting in accordance with "unofficial instructions."

Then Whitman continued. He concluded by saying: "New York offers to the people's party, to the voters' party—no, not only to them, but to the great nation—her son, her noblest and best. I nominate Charles E. Hughes!"

The nomination was the signal for a great uproar. Bands blared out in wild music, flags were waved, the thunder of feet was uproarious and the Hughes delegates cheered loudly. The demonstration lasted for 20 minutes.

Chairman Harding pounded the table with his gavel, but each thump was greeted with renewed cheering. The police were then directed to get the delegates seated.

ROOT IS NOMINATED BY DR. BUTLER.
Chairman Harding then recognized President Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia University, who called on, yielded to New York. This also was the signal for an outburst of applause.
In steady succession other nominations are being made. Ex-Governor Willis of Ohio nominated Senator Theodore E. Burton. The demonstration for Burton lasted 33 minutes, being kept up principally by Ohio delegates. Senator Lodge of Massachusetts nominated Senator John W. Weeks. Representative Miller of Delaware nominated Dupont in a long address, during which the delegates ate sandwiches. Col. W. J. Calhoun of Illinois nominated Senator Lawrence Y. Sherman.

At this stage of the proceedings the delegates grew restless. While Sherman was being nominated by Illinois, Senator Fall of New Mexico, whose state came soon after, was waiting to nominate Col. Roosevelt. A considerable list of "favorite sons" still remained for presentation, but these are expected to be made rapidly, and the prospects were early this afternoon that one ballot and possibly two might be taken on the nominees before adjournment today.

AUDITORIUM, Chicago, June 9.—The ranks of the Progressive delegates again were stirred to the depths today by powerful Roosevelt sentiment.
George W. Perkins presented to the convention when it opened the report of the conference committee dealing with the attempt, to get the two bodies together on one candidate.
"We proposed as the joint nominee Theodore Roosevelt," said the report read by Perkins. "The Republicans did not present the name of any
